

Would you like to volunteer in Russia?

We are seeking experienced paediatric therapists to work with and support early years Portage Teams in Russia. The teams work with children and young people with complex disabilities and are in need of education, advice and training in order to further their knowledge and skills.

You would be travelling with our Russian Programme Development Manager. We are able to provide full support in organising your trip, however volunteers would need to fund their own flights, visa and travel insurance. Accommodation and transfers within Russia are provided.

If you are able to travel to Russia in May, would be confident to work with the children, families and Portage team providing advice, treatment and programmes to be continued after you leave we would love to hear from you!
